B2B deal · Rounds 2 and 3

One firm sells a lot of 3 cars to another firm (4 in Round 3). With an odd number of firms, two firms offer to sell and the lower price wins.

Topic tasks

Each firm gets its own figures. The method is the same for every firm.

Task 1

Your manager plans the staff rota, sets the budgets and checks the results each week.

Is this mainly management or leadership?

PICK ONE

- ○ Leadership: inspiring staff
- ○ Leadership: setting a vision
- ✔ Management: planning and control
- ○ Neither: it is just admin

Why: Planning, organising and controlling are management; leaders set direction.

A manager decides everything alone and gives orders.

Which two effects are most likely over time?

PICK TWO

- ○ Decisions take longer
- ✔ Fast decisions in a crisis
- ✔ Skilled staff feel undervalued
- ○ Staff feel more involved
- ○ Staff gain more responsibility

Why: Deciding alone is quick, but skilled staff want a say.

Four leadership styles.

Order them by how much staff decide, least first?

PUT THESE IN ORDER, FIRST TO LAST · RIGHT ORDER

1. Autocratic
2. Paternalistic
3. Democratic
4. Laissez-faire

Why: Paternalistic leaders still decide, but explain and consult more than autocrats.

A new laissez-faire manager took over.

Rise in the error rate, as a %?

WORK OUT THE NUMBER, THEN PICK IT · EXAMPLE FIGURES

Deals a month	200 deals
Pricing errors before	16 errors
Pricing errors now	24 errors

METHOD

Rise % = (errors now − errors before) ÷ errors before × 100

(24 − 16) ÷ 16 × 100 = 50%

Why: Little direction suits skilled staff; here errors rose by 50%.

A new, untrained team must deliver a big fleet order by Friday.

Which approach fits, and why?

PICK A OR B AND GIVE A REASON

- ✔ Clear instructions from the manager
- ○ Let the team decide how

Why: Untrained staff and little time need clear direction.

A laissez-faire manager runs a team of new trainees. Errors and complaints rise.

What best explains the problem?

PICK ONE

- ○ Decisions are too centralised
- ○ Staff have too little freedom
- ○ The manager is too controlling
- ✔ Trainees lack the skill to work alone

Why: Laissez-faire suits skilled, motivated staff; trainees need direction.

Final questions

questions for each pupil

129
Level 3 Business questions

of them on leadership

The game draws the 2 questions on this topic, and 4 more from the 129 Level 3 questions.

1 A dealer says managers welcome challenge, but staff say every failed decision is punished. Which cultural effect is most likely?
Staff stop raising risks or new ideas.

2 A safety incident at a branch needs immediate coordinated action. Why might a usually participative leader become more directive for now?
Urgent risk needs fast, clear decisions.
